Notice to the Public.

I HAVE THIS DAY DISPOSED OF MY DIAmond Watch and Jewelry business, at the corner of First and Morrison streets, to Mr ALBERT FELDENHEIMER, who has been in my employ for the past eight years. In retiring from the business I have been engaged in for the past seventeen years in Portland I wish to express my grateful acknowledgments for the generous patronage bestowed upon me and take pleasure in recommending my successor as an honorable business man every way worthy of public confidence.

I will still be found at my old place, where I will be happy to see my friends. And I especially urge those indebted to me to settle as early as possible. Bills will be receipted by myself or Mr Albert Feldenheimer.
B. L. STONE

Portland, Oregon, March 6 1885.

Referring to the above, I desire in assuming the proprietorship of this establishment to say that I shall use my best effort to maintain the high reputation Mr Stone has given to it and will endeavor to entitle myself to the liberal patronage he has enjoyed. The house will retain the name "STONE'S JEWELRY STORE," by which it has been so favorably known.

I have perfected arrangements to import my stock direct, thus saving the commissions and profits of middlemen for the benefit of my customers. A large addition of new goods will immediately be made to my already large stock and no pains will be spared to keep even with the times in the matter of variety, quality, styles and prices.

ALBERT FELDENHEIMER,

(Successor to B. L. STONE)

FOREIGN DISPATCHES.

The French Put to Flight by the Chinese.

GENERAL NEGRIER IS WOUNDED

The News Occasions Much Excitement in Paris—Russia's Reply to England Kept Secret—The Soudan War

PARIS, March [illegible].—The Chinese forces gained a victory over the French at Lang Son Friday. They captured the key of the position and entrenchments. The French troops retreated beyond Dong Dang. They are falling back on the Long Koi. The French losses in men and guns are unknown. The Chinese forces are estimated at 17,000 strong. They menace the French lines of communication with the south.

It is reported in Paris that General Briere de l'Isle asks for 20,000 reinforcements. The French reverses have increased political excitement in Paris. It is expected the ministry will be defeated in the next Tonquin debate and then resign. Radical and monarchist organs predict the early fall of Premier Ferry.

GENERAL NEGRIER SEVERELY WOUNDED.

PARIS, March 29.—The following dispatch has been received from General Briere de l'Isle, dated Hanoi, March 28: "I regret to announce that General Negrier has been severely wounded and obliged to evacuate Langson. The Chinese, in three large columns, made an impetuous attack upon our positions before Kilua. Col. Herbinger, in the face of a superior number of the enemy and exhausted of ammunition, was obliged to retreat to Dong Dang and Thanmoi. [illegible] pressing forces on the Chu and Kep roads. If the enemy still increases I shall retire to Long Koi. Whatever happens I hope to be able to defend the whole delta. Please send reinforcements as quickly as possible."

The cabinet met at 8 this morning and held another meeting this evening.

The Journal des Debats says: "France will make necessary efforts in behalf of her sons in Tonquin. Reinforcements will be sent, not to-morrow, but to-day. To-morrow, however, we shall see with whom the responsibility rests."

Another paper urges a French expedition to Pekin and says Premier Ferry will make a statement in the chamber of deputies to-morrow.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

LONDON, March 29.—A dispatch from Paris says it is officially announced that Chinese troops [illegible] yesterday made a desperate attack upon the entrenched camp established by General Negrier between Langson and Kilua, and from which General Negrier has been making reconnoissances beyond the frontier separating Tonquin from China proper. The Chinese drove the French back beyond Langson and recaptured that town. General Negrier was grievously wounded and the French casualties were very serious.

Latest accounts represent the French troops in full retreat with the Chinese vigorously pursuing them. Vast quantities of commissary and other stores were lost. General Negrier received a gunshot wound in the chest. He was brought from the field but his recovery is doubtful. The total French loss killed and wounded are not yet known.

General Briere de l'Isle, who is in chief command in Tonquin, telegraphs for assistance in an imploring tone which leads Parisians to expect further disasters. A council of war was held to-day with General Lewal, minister of war, presiding. Intense excitement prevails wherever the bad news has become known in France.

A DISPATCH FROM DE L'ISLE.

PARIS, March 30.—General de l'Isle in a dispatch says: "General Negrier is at Dong Dang. It is expected he will recover. Colonel Herbinger is with the column at Thanmoi. The French evacuated their positions without molestation from the Chinese."

Telegrams maintain absolute silence regarding the French losses. The cabinet decided to dispatch reinforcements to Tonquin immediately and ask in the chamber of deputies to-day a credit of $40,000,000, half for the ministry of war and half for the ministry of marine. M. Clemenceau has called a meeting of members of the extreme left for to-day to decide their course. Several deputies who support Ferry are in favor of a plenary meeting of all republican groups.

NEGRIER REPORTED DEAD.

PARIS, March 29.—A report is in circulation to-night that General Negrier has died from his wounds.

THE ANGLO RUSSIAN TROUBLE.

PRESS OPINION AT ST. PETERSBURG.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 29.—The German Gazette thinks the dispute between England and Russia of too trivial a nature to fight about. The Gazette says it is difficult to understand how a nation with such experience as that of the Soudan disasters can assume such a warlike attitude toward a powerful military state.

The Journal de St. Petersburg believes the reply of the Russian minister of foreign affairs will have a conciliatory effect and that the Marquis of Hartington, expecting this, postponed debate on the queen's message calling out the reserves.

RUSSIA'S REPLY KEPT SECRET.

LONDON, March 30.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says Russia's reply was ready the 26th inst., but both governments desire to keep the contents secret. England proposed another frontier line. It is not known whether Russia accepts, but official circles rely upon a peaceful compromise. Great irritation is caused by the preparations of the Indians, which it is stated far exceed Russia's preparations. In every thing calm indifference is exhibited by the Russians, except in small military circles indirectly interested in the Afghan question.

IT LOOKS LIKE PEACE.

LONDON, March 30.—The Daily News says: There is reason to believe the reply of De Giers concerning the Afghan frontier is on the way to England and that it is distinctly favorable to peace, for which we must thank the firmness of England and the imminence of the meeting at Rawul Pindi. There is increasing ground, it continues, for the belief that some resource to diplomacy will enable Russia to abandon her claims without loss of prestige. If not, England's duty is still clear and arbitration of the dispute would be inapplicable.

AT RAWUL PINDI.

RAWUL PINDI, March 29.—The military authorities have settled every detail for an advance of 50,000 troops to Pishin. A scheme has been submitted for Earl Dufferin's approval that the ameer's escort to Rawul Pindi shall number 2000. To-day Lord Dufferin exchanged visits with native chiefs and to-morrow will have audience with the ameer. He will then visit Murree and Peshawur.

THE ARMY OF THE CAUCASUS.

Count Nogue, brother-in-law of General Akoff, in a letter to a Paris journal estimates the army of the Caucasus at 10,000 men. He says the army could easily be replaced by another army of equal strength from the western frontiers of Russia, which are unmenaced, and that this army could soon reach Penjdeh by the Askabad railway, which will be completed in a few days.

ITALY MAY TAKE PART.

ROME, March 29.—Rossegna says events may compel Italy to take active part in the threatened war [illegible] in concert with England [illegible] Austria.

THE SOUDAN.

THE EGYPTIAN QUESTION.

LONDON, March 29.—The recent meetings of Musurus Pasha, Hassan Fehmi Pasha and Earl Granville were in connection with the Egyptian financial convention. The Turkish government is reluctant to sign the convention, thinking it implied recognition of the bombardment of Alexandria and England's subsequent actions in Egypt, which were considered as opposed to the sultan's suzerain rights and likely to produce a bad impression on the Mussulmans.

It is reported Granville threatened to give Musurus and Fehmi their passports and break off diplomatic relations with Turkey unless the sultan signed a firman for a loan of £9,000,000. The sultan, it is said, agreed to issue the firman, still refusing, however, to sign the convention, but he afterward called a council of notables and finally decided to sign the convention with certain reservations which Granville accepted.

WAR NOTES FROM LONDON.

LONDON, March 29.—General Wolseley, after making an inspection of the military stations from Dongola to Cairo, will go to Suakim.

It is now certain that the advance of General Graham's army to Tamai will be made Wednesday, sufficient water stores at General McNeill's zereba having been completed to-day.

THE NEW SOUTH WALES MEN ARRIVE.

SUAKIM, March 29.—The New South Wales contingent arrived to-day and were congratulated by General Graham upon their fine appearance. He eulogized their patriotic intentions and said he was proud of [illegible] such men. The troops were heartily cheered on landing. They will take part in the advance on Tamai.

It is reported that Osman Digna has moved his camp to Tamanieb.

WOLSELEY GOING TO CAIRO.

DONGOLA, March [illegible].—General Wolseley is going to Cairo to confer with the government.

SPAIN.

AN EPIDEMIC BREAKS OUT.

MADRID, March 30.—A serious outbreak of a disease resembling cholera has appeared at San Felipe de Jativa, province of Valencia. Fifteen persons have died within twenty-four hours of colic with choleric symptoms. A report was spread that the province was threatened with a return of the cholera epidemic, which would complete the ruin caused by the earthquakes. The people are panic stricken and are begging further assistance from the government.

SOUTH AMERICA.

TROUBLE BETWEEN CHURCH AND STATE.

BUENOS AYRES (via Galveston), March 28.—A rupture between the Uruguayan government and the Vatican [illegible] government [illegible] rights [illegible] would [illegible] of the law and [illegible] punishment [illegible] Monsignor [illegible].

CANADA.

THE REBELLION IN THE NORTHWEST TERRITORY.

WINNIPEG, March 29.—There has been but one [illegible] rebels [illegible] Prince Albert. A dispatch from Qu'Appelle says Governor Dewdney and McDonald had a conference with [illegible] satisfactory assurance that the latter would give the government no trouble.

A dispatch from Battleford says a [illegible] has just arrived with details of the [illegible]. He says the [illegible] had but ninety-five [illegible] and while parleying [illegible] by the rebels [illegible] sides, taking the police and volunteers on both flanks. They responded with rifles and cannon and forty rebels at least must have fallen under the [illegible] fire and as many more [illegible] wounded.

Riel's emissary is under arrest at Fort Pitt for inciting the Indians on the Saskatchewan [illegible].

News has been received here that the Crees are in council at [illegible] and that the Indians are about starting on the warpath, and there are fears of a general movement on the part of the Indians to obtain more supplies. All legations are now going to Battleford to make demands. Colonel Irvine advises that General Middleton must bring a large force to subdue the rebellion. Middleton has prepared for a [illegible] but will now wait for reinforcements and move with a heavy column.

RIEL JUST FROM AN ASYLUM.

QUEBEC, March 29.—An official of the Beauport asylum states that Riel was an inmate of that institution for two years. He was not insane, but was hiding, and that the government was fully aware of his whereabouts, though professing not to [illegible]. The feeling here is that Riel has much deeper object in view than a half breed uprising, that the present action is simply for the purpose of drawing off the military from the frontier to allow the Fenians, whom he is closely connected with, a wider scope for operations.

PRAYER OFFERED IN THE CHURCHES.

TORONTO, March 29.—A special form of prayer was offered to-day in all the Anglican churches for troops going to the northwest. In most churches patriotic sermons were preached and at the conclusion of services the congregation joined in singing the national anthem. The exuberant excitement of the first has quieted down, and they are in a more determined and thoughtful mood. They now realize the work before them and long for a collision with the rebels.

FORT CARLTON EVACUATED.

WINNIPEG, March 29.—A dispatch from the west to-day says mounted police under Irvine evacuated Fort Carlton and retreated to Prince Albert, where they can defend the settlements and better protect themselves. All supplies not needed were destroyed together with the fort to prevent them falling into the hands of the enemy.

A DISPATCH FROM MIDDLETON.

OTTAWA, March 29.—In a dispatch from Qu'Appelle to the government to-day General Middleton states that Riel has not more than 500 fighting men. He adds that they are well armed, determined and mean mischief. He intimates that he will make a dash on the rebels with the men in his command.

ENGLAND.

MORE WARLIKE PREPARATIONS.

LONDON, March 30.—The British government has chartered the new Cunard steamer Etruria and the steamers Oregon and Alaska for service as armed cruiser transports. They will be fitted with long [illegible].

The admiralty has ordered the men-of-war Iron Duke, Hotspur, [illegible], Conqueror and Hydra to be prepared for service. It is presumed they go to the Baltic.

The admiralty also has ordered the active service ships Inflexible, Devastation, Cyclops, Rupert, Cordelia, Volage, Active and Emerald to be manned ready for immediate service. They will be ready for sea in a few days.

LARGE OIL MILLS BURNING.

LONDON, March 30.—Charles Price & Co's oil mills at Belvidere, Kent, are on fire. The fire will be allowed to burn out, as it would be useless to try to extinguish it. The loss will be $200,000. The mills are the largest in England. It is expected the fire will burn seven days.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

WAR NOTES FROM SAN JUAN DEL SUR.

SAN JUAN DEL SUR (via Galveston), March 29.—General Preston, in Colon, refused to dispatch outward mails to Carthagena, sent through the British consulate and the national postal agency. The mail bags were returned to Panama yesterday.

General Correoso, the new secretary of war, was arrested by General Aizpuru, to whom Correoso had carried peace proposals. The rebel general excused his conduct by saying that Correoso had brought no credentials to him.

The rebel camp at Naranjo near Buena Ventura has also surrendered. Bayaca left Buena Ventura for Panama yesterday.

The United States steamer Wachusetts' guard on the railroad has been removed.

FRANCE.

MISS VAN ZANDT RELEASED.

PARIS, March 29.—M. Carvalho, the operatic manager, has released Miss Van Zandt without indemnity. He said he owed the prosperity of his theatre to her and regretted her departure.

FERRY MUST FALL.

LONDON, March 30.—The Paris correspondent of the Times considers the fall of the French cabinet certain and irrevocable. Nobody is able to predict who Ferry's successor will be.

DEATH OF A DIPLOMAT.

PARIS, March 29.—Prince Orloff, Russian diplomat, is dead.

MEXICO.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

MEXICO, March 29.—Troops are practicing military maneuvers every day preparing to enforce the position of the government against Barrios if it should prove necessary.

The minister of the interior's proclamation that the reform laws must be strictly obeyed provokes a violent article from Voz de Mexico, the leading Catholic daily here, which accuses the government of persecution and defies President Diaz, saying the Catholic party is composed of men without fear, and that persecution will awake them from their lethargy.

AUSTRALIA.

NOT ALLOWED TO ENTER AT NIGHT.

MELBOURNE, March 29.—The governor of Victoria has issued an order forbidding foreign ships to enter Port Phillip during the night.

General Grant Hurriedly Sends for his Physicians.

A DANGEROUS SYMPTOM APPEARS

A Novelty in Racing—Big Fire at New York—A Prowler Shot Dead—Twelve Miners Killed in Indian Territory

NEW YORK, March 29.—The usual weekly consultation on General Grant's condition was held to-day. Doctors Barker, Sands, Shrady and Douglas were present. The irritation of the nose which had produced a train of symptoms which induced the family to send for physicians last night has been relieved so that the general had a sleep of four hours, from 3 to [illegible] and naps of more or less duration during the morning, making seven or eight hours sleep during the last twenty-four. The general presented at the consultation a much improved appearance. To-night he was free from pain and reasonably free from the annoying discharge which had troubled the family last night.

To-night General Grant became anxious to see the doctors, and they arrived at the house after 11. They found the patient's throat much better than at the consultation, although there was still slight congestion. The doctors dressed it, gave the general another anodyne and put him to bed. They remained with the general all night and Dr Shrady will stay to-morrow night. Physicians are in the house to allay the general's own nervousness and calm the anxiety of his family.

FROM THE TRIBUNE OF MONDAY.

Dr Shrady said after midnight: "Dr Douglas called for me about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, while on the way to General Grant's, where he had been summoned by a messenger a short time before. I dressed hastily and in a few moments we were rapidly driven to the house of the general. Upon arriving there we found the family up and alarmed at symptoms that had developed soon after Dr Douglas had left the patient a few hours before. There was no indication after the general had gone to bed and before Douglas had started for home that there would be any change for the worse within a short period. At 2 A M, when we saw the general, he was much distressed. While he was dozing there had been an accumulation of phlegm in the rear of the nasal passage and he was awakened by a sense of suffocation and a difficulty in breathing. The patient became apprehensive at this sudden development of new symptoms that were attended with a prospect of serious results and wanted an explanation of the trouble. He consequently desired the presence of his physicians and we were sent for. We immediately made an examination of the throat and found the palate considerably swollen and the throat inflamed and congested more than usual. The anodyne he took before going to bed was given in divided doses, but in consequence of the existence of irritating substance in the throat as well as the distress caused by inflammation the anodyne failed to have its proper effect and he was unable to sleep. The patient got up from bed when he felt the distressing sensation upon awakening and sat in an easy chair. Later the general had four hours sleep. One physician was present with him all the time during his sleep and a strict watch was kept of every movement, but there was an entire absence of anything to occasion any further treatment."

A NIGHT OF SUSPENSE.

The general's family remained up all night long and it was a night of suspense to them. They were much relieved, however, when the spasmodic attack had been subdued and they were assured there was no occasion to fear any return of the bad symptoms.

When the general woke at 8 A M he partook of a small amount of liquid food, which he was able to swallow without distress. During twelve hours after 2 A M the patient had between seven and eight hours sleep. It was of course artificial sleep induced by anodyne. At 9 P M the general requested that a dispatch be sent Dr Douglas requesting him to come and see him. The patient was not alarmed but wanted to have his physicians near him. He was not in a critical condition, and there was nothing to warrant the message, but he simply requested that they be sent for. Dr Douglas remained with the general all night in accordance with the patient's wish. Before the general went to bed his throat was treated with an anodyne. The prospects were at last account that the general would have a good night's rest. His condition is much improved.

Harrison, the general's servant, told a member of the household in the afternoon that when the general struggled out of bed he said to him in a matter of fact way, "I can't stand this, Harrison, I am going to die."

EASTERN NOTES.

A NOVELTY IN RACING.

PITTSBURG, March 29.—O'Neil & Co., owners of the tow boat W. W. O'Neil, have accepted a challenge from the St. Louis and Mississippi Valley Transportation Co. for a 1000-mile race between the W. W. O'Neil and a picked boat of the challenging company. The boats are each to have a tow of six model barges and the one first reaching Cairo from 1000 miles up the Mississippi will be winner. The race is to decide the superiority of the short or long stroke. The short stroke is in general practice while the long stroke is an innovation of Captain O'Neil's. The race is to take place in June.

RIDDLEBERGER ON THE IRISH QUESTION.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Senator Riddleberger did not attend the meeting of Irish revolutionists to-night. In his telegram he said: "Were I at your meeting my sentiments would be American without know-nothingism. Irishmen should be Americans without forgetting there is an oppressed Ireland. I believe it to be the duty of American Irishmen to do their utmost for Irish nation and liberty."

CLEARING HOUSE RETURNS.

BOSTON, March 29.—The managers of leading clearing houses of the United States report that the total clearances for the week ending March 28 were $809,550,951, a decrease of 2¼ per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

ST LOUIS, March 29.—The family and friends of ex-Governor Thomas C. Fletcher, a prominent citizen and lawyer of high repute in this city, are in great distress at his mysterious absence from home. He has not been seen for nine days.

EX-PRESIDENT ARTHUR.

FORTRESS MONROE, Va., March 29.—Ex-President Arthur and Senator Cameron and party arrived this morning.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Pacific coast generally fair weather.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

BEECHER WORKED FOR PHELPS.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Various stories are related as to the manner in which the new minister to England was discovered by President Cleveland. An eastern member of congress attributes Phelps' selection to Henry Ward Beecher. "The fact is," said this congressman, "President Cleveland never met Phelps but once, and knew so little about him that he would never have thought of selecting him for the office if some powerful influence had not suggested it. Henry Ward Beecher has been a warm personal friend of Phelps for several years and Beecher came to Washington about ten days before Phelps was nominated, and had a long talk with the president. I am told he came here expressly to ask that Phelps be named as minister to England. The president feels that he is under deep obligations to Beecher, so much so that anything that Beecher might ask would be granted. There is no doubt that Phelps got his place at the request of the Plymouth church pastor."

AN IMPORTANT PROPOSITION.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—It is said a proposition was submitted to President Cleveland yesterday by Dr Demega, on behalf of the United States of Colombia, having reference to the acquirement by the United States of commercial supremacy in South American states.

CLEVELAND ATTENDS CHURCH.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—President Cleveland attended divine service to-day at the First Presbyterian church. He was accompanied by his sister Miss Cleveland, Miss Folsom of Buffalo and Miss Van Vechten of Albany. The church was crowded.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

A PROWLER SHOT DEAD.

CLEVELAND, March 29.—For several nights past the family of W. D. Hoyt have been annoyed by a man looking in at the windows. About 8 o'clock this evening Mrs Hoyt noticed a face at the window. Hoyt went outside, revolver in hand, and seeing a man in the yard he commanded him to throw up his hands. The stranger reached for his hip pocket and Hoyt fired, shooting him through the heart. The dead man is a mulatto whose identity it is impossible to ascertain. Hoyt gave himself up to the police. He is a stenographer in the employ of the Standard Oil Company.

THE FIRE RECORD.

A BIG FIRE AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Fire completely destroyed Schumacher & Ettlinger's lithographic art establishment at 32, 34 and 36 Bleecker street, to-night. The total loss is about $350,000, of which $100,000 is on the building and believed to be insured. It was over four hours before the flames were got under control. In consequence of the secure way in which the building, with its iron shutters, was locked, the firemen had much difficulty in forcing an opening through which a stream could be sent. When a hole was made, smoke and flames drove the firemen back, and more time was lost. Ten thousand people flocked to the vicinity, and twenty engines and the reserve police force from five precincts were at the scene.

Half an hour after the conflagration started a colony of Italians in a tenement adjoining the blazing building were hurried from their homes. They were no sooner out of the way than two five ton water tanks fell from the roof of No. 34, carrying with them portions of the roof and front and the side walls. Several persons were knocked down, but no one was seriously injured. Engine 20 was considerably damaged and the water tower was wrecked. Then the roof fell in, but the flames were not allowed to spread to the adjoining tenements.

IDAHO.

HAILEY PEOPLE OBJECT.

SALT LAKE, March 28.—At a meeting of prominent citizens representing different parts of Idaho territory held at Hailey to-day, it was unanimously resolved to contest the validity of the act of the Idaho legislature providing for an issue of territorial bonds $80,000 for the construction of capitol buildings at Boise City, on the ground that the act was not within the scope of the authority of the legislature, being under exclusive control of the federal government. Legal proceedings will be commenced at once.

ACCIDENTS.

TWELVE MINERS KILLED.

ST LOUIS, March 29.—A terrible explosion occurred in Coal Mine No 7, at McAllister, Indian territory, Friday evening. Twelve miners, all who were in the mine at the time, were instantly killed. The cause of the explosion is unknown, but is supposed to have been the ignition of powder. The bodies were only slightly burned. Death was evidently the result of concussion.

NOTABLE DEAD.

A PROMINENT CHICAGO DEMOCRAT.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Perry H. Smith, a retired lawyer and millionaire, died here this morning of congestion of the liver. Deceased was a life-long democrat and exercised strong influence in the councils of his party in the west. He was a class friend of Samuel J. Tilden.

PACIFIC COAST.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

NOTES FROM NORTH YAKIMA.

NORTH YAKIMA, March 29.—Colonel O B Lamborn, Paul Schulze and Robert W Mitchell left to-day for Portland.

Within the past twenty-four hours contracts have been made for the immediate removal of thirteen houses from the old town, and the Signal, anti-railroad paper, comes out with an editorial practically advising the old towners to consult their own interests and hold out no longer. It is thought to be the turning point that will pretty much settle the quarrel between the old and new towns. The removals aside from these contracts mentioned average one building a day.

The Rev. Thompson is preaching to-day in a church built during the week.

It is impossible for an outsider to appreciate the degree of bustle and excitement that prevails here.

SETTLERS PLEASED WITH A DECISION.

WALLA WALLA, March 28.—The readjustment of the limits of the Northern Pacific land grant by Secretary Lamar so as to run directly east from Wallula Junction instead of northeasterly, as formerly, gives great satisfaction here, as it will enable a large number of settlers who have made valuable improvements upon railroad lands to obtain title thereto. There was great uneasiness in the community in regard to the class of lands affected, and a failure to make the change would have involved a number of citizens in heavy losses and meant [illegible] ruin to others.

CALIFORNIA.

A HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—A horrible murder and suicide occurred this evening. John Kane, a wealthy stock raiser residing in this city with his wife and child, begged his wife to close up their house here and accompany him to Colusa county to live. She refused to do so. He insisted and, enraged at her continued refusal, seized a Winchester rifle and fired three bullets into her body. He then killed himself. The wife is still living but will probably die.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

Arrived—Bark Mary Glover, Port Discovery. Cleared—British steamer Barnard Castle, Nanaimo; steamer Oregon, Astoria; schooner Kodiak, Kodiak; schooner Howard, Kodiak. Sailed—Steamer Wilmington, Victoria; schooner Fanny Dutard, Astoria.

Arrived—Steamer Columbia, Portland. Sailed—Schooner American Girl, Port Gamble.

POSTPONED.

The foot race between the famous sprinter Kittleman and McComb of San Jose, announced for to-day, has been postponed to Wednesday next.

ALBANY NOTES.

ALBANY, March 26.

The amount of city tax for 1885 is something over $[illegible].

Judge R S Strahan is attending court at Corvallis.

James Foster Jr is in the city for a few days visiting friends.

Rebecca Degree I O O F will meet to-morrow evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Wild strawberry blossoms dot the ground throughout the country.

Mr A T Arnell is slowly recovering from his recent stroke of paralysis.

Steps are being taken for the erection of a band stand on the court house square.

It is proposed by the boys to organize a first-class base ball club here during the summer.

Last week Mr J P Gilman and family removed to Ashland, where he will go into the fruit business.

Messrs Robinson & West are getting out a bill of 75,000 feet of dressed lumber for the new school building.

By special invitation Rev J A Hollenbaugh, of the Evangelical church, will preach at Jefferson next Sunday.

James Powell and his little gun were too much for several tramps the other evening and they beat a hasty retreat.

To-morrow evening the Mechanics' band will give an open air concert on the corner of Broadalbin and First streets.

It is reported that O T Porter, formerly editor of the Herald, will soon start another paper here to be independent in politics.

An offer was made from Prineville for the purchase of No 1's hand engine, but the city council decided at its last meeting not to sell it.

George A Dyson of Brownsville passed through the city on his way to Wood river, where he is largely interested in several mining claims.

Friday evening, April 3, the Mechanics' band will give a ball at Crawford's opera house, the proceeds to go toward purchasing a new uniform.

Mr J S Clark has the contract for laying the foundation of the new school building and is making the brick at the kiln near the Calapooia bridge.

Mr Reed's family, who have been stopping in the city during the past winter attending school, have removed back to their home near Miller station.

Henry Main, an employe in Best & Althouse's factory, met with a very painful accident yesterday by having one of his fingers split open with a band saw.

The assessment roll of Recorder Henton shows the taxable property of the city to be $1,068,140, from which will be deducted an indebtedness of $65,651 as allowed by one of the provisions of the new charter.

The old school house was sold at public auction last Saturday to clear the ground for the new building. It was built in 1851 by C P Burkhart, and the first school was taught in it by B. R. Freeland, now of Salem, in 1855.

Director C. H. Stewart has received a letter from Mr B S Worsley, president of the state firemen's association, in which he states that Astoria will offer $2000 in prizes for the tournament. The Albany boys will be there for a share.

Last Wednesday evening a large number of the friends of Mrs. Lon McClellan met at the residence of Mrs George Young and gave her a very handsome surprise. After a pleasant evening spent in social games etc., an excellent repast was served.

At the next meeting of the fire companies committees will be appointed to co-operate and consider the advisability of giving a series of concerts, sociables or entertainments to assist in defraying the expenses of the fire boys who will attend the tournament at Astoria.

The beautiful drama "Flower of the Family" was rendered at Crawford's opera house last Tuesday evening by local talent in a manner which reflected credit upon the performers. The acting showed thorough training and gave good satisfaction to the large audience present.

A family of emigrants arrived at the depot last Tuesday and it was rather an odd sight to see all the male children with heavy fur caps and ear protectors. When they left their home in the east the thermometer stood at zero and three feet of snow covered the ground. The fur caps will soon be sold at a discount for straw hats.

At a meeting of the subscribers of the new opera house fund, E. W. Langdon, W. S. Peters, W. M. Ketchum, Charles Pfeiffer, E. J. Lanning, J. H. Burkhart and W. C. Tweedale were elected directors. The board met and organized by electing officers as follows: President, W. M. Ketchum; secretary, W. S. Peters; treasurer, E. W. Langdon.

Very few residents of Albany even are aware of the fact that during the past two months negotiations have been pending between a number of business men here and an eastern capitalist for the erection of a woolen mill at this place. This is the fact, however, and the business has formed so definite a shape that there remains no doubt that it will be built. Less than a $50,000 guarantee from this city will insure its being built the coming summer. The remainder of the money will be furnished, as stated, by an eastern capitalist. The mill, as proposed, will be furnished with the latest improved machinery and will employ about 125 hands. A public meeting will be called in a week to consider the matter.

MEN LARGE AND SMALL

Carl Schurz is credited with saying that "President Cleveland has more brains to-day than Mr. Blaine." The calm estimate of the world is against the ex-secretary's judgment, which is warped by his dislike. The fact is, the intellectual qualities of the two men are widely different. They may furnish numerous antitheses, but no comparisons. Mr Blaine has a phosphorescent brain. It flashes and sparkles and penetrates. It is vivid and luminous, it creates surprises by its extraordinary displays of activity, brilliancy and power. Such a mind often lacks a balance of soundest judgment. That, indeed, is its almost invariable characteristic. Even Webster, far greater and more solid than Blaine, lacked it. Schurz himself, a man of striking ability, is deficient in it, and hence he has achieved no real success. Wanting that balance of judgment, he failed utterly in military life, and has made one conspicuous failure after another in politics. Indeed, he much resembles Blaine, though Blaine is by far the brighter man. With real ability, deficiency of judgment in most important undertakings nearly always goes. There is want of care, of prudence and of worldly wisdom. He who has powers that lead him out of the beaten path becomes an object of observation. The necessity of his position requires him to put forth unusual efforts, and to rely on unusual means, to sustain himself. Likewise his methods are, of necessity, largely original and tentative. Hence he is liable to many mistakes, and any mistake may produce a fall. But the man who plods is free from these liabilities to accident. If mischance does, indeed, befall him, it is unnoticed, because he is himself obscure. The fall from a height is the only fall that hurts. Blaine's defeat for the presidency, therefore, will be a mark in political history like the defeat of Clay, but Cleveland's defeat, had that occurred, would not have been talked about a week. And this brings us back to the contrast between the two men. The brain of President Cleveland is the opposite of all that has been said concerning that of Mr Blaine. It moves slower. It is that of the steady, average, commonplace man. From one standpoint there is ground for the claim that in the presidential chair Cleveland's brain is the better of the two. In ordinary times the presidency is unimportant, and the plodder may best fill it. On this theory Mr. Cleveland may be the right man in the right place. But in the field of polemics, in the world of literature, upon the forum and in all the higher activities of life, the Blaine brain shines with a luminosity that dims the other by comparison.

It is the history of our politics that the brilliant and able man, who has had a conspicuous political career, doesn't reach the presidency. He is pulled down by those whom he leads in popular favor, as Clay, Webster, Seward, Douglas and Blaine, were all pulled down. Carl Schurz is an able man, and, by a curious though very common contradiction, the main reason why he doesn't like Blaine is because Blaine is abler than himself, while, on the other hand, his principal liking for Cleveland grows out of the fact that Cleveland is less able than he is. It was, in fact, Blaine's remarkable ability that caused Schurz to oppose him. And so with Curtis and the rest. The main ingredient of it was the instinct of opposition to the man who overshadowed themselves. In the contentions of men the like is written upon every page of history. It is the low, mean, selfish and ungenerous in human nature, which always attempts to disguise itself through professions of high political morality. It was so with the men who contended with each other for the mastery of the Roman world. So it has been with political rivals at nearly every stage in the history of England. This, indeed, is a permanent trait of human nature. It explains why the eminent man, since parties took their present form, has so rarely been successful as candidate for the presidency of the United States. Lincoln was great, but his greatness was not developed till after he became president, and when it was developed an opposition to him arose in his own party that threatened his defeat, and would have defeated him had it not been for the extraordinary emergency of the war. Had the republicans last year nominated any obscure man, he would have received the support of the eminent republicans who opposed Blaine—opposed him chiefly because of his prominence, as they supported Cleveland chiefly because of his obscurity. They made it known, after Blaine was nominated, that Cleveland was the sort of man they wanted, they proclaimed that they would not support any eminent democrat, that if Tilden, Thurman, Pendleton, or any other man of like eminence were nominated they would name a separate candidate and give him their support. Thus it is that the jealousies of men often secure the triumph of mediocrity. Nor is this all. Now that Mr. Cleveland is president, the same conditions that led such men as Mr Schurz and Mr Curtis to support him for the position cause them also to be blind to faults in his administration which they would attack with merciless severity were Mr Blaine or Mr Tilden the president. Mr Cleveland makes his campaign manager and party boss, Mr Manning, secretary of the treasury. They sweetly approve the choice; but had Blaine been elected, and had he named Elkins for that or any other high position, how they would have denounced the selection as most indecent and outrageous! And then suppose Elkins had named some active, unscrupulous and disreputable political worker for chief of the appointment bureau of the treasury department, as Manning has done, what words could have expressed their righteous indignation? Observe, too, that the same journals that skipped lightly over Mr Cleveland's opposition to Chinese immigration, as set forth in his inaugural address, or did not even notice it, are the ones that characterized Mr Blaine's attitude on the same subject as a demagogic appeal to Pacific coast sentiment, and a disgrace to the principles of the American republic. So it will be with them throughout Mr Cleveland's term. He is not a man of originality, of force, of self-assertion, they look down upon him instead of looking up to him, and nothing he can do will provoke their criticism or excite their animosity. He can commit no offense in their sight, because he never attained eminence in his profession, distinction as a citizen or unusual fame in any direction. The easy-going local attorney, sheriff, mayor and governor, of no particular character, is not large enough for them to criticise, because he is not large enough to reject or neglect their dictation or advice. They are at "heart's ease" when they look upon him, because they do not see in him "one greater than themselves," or one who appears to be a special object of popular favor. This last is also a grievous offense in their eyes. The man who enjoys the popular favor to any marked degree becomes thereby a special object of their dislike, because that in itself is a token of his eminence, for which he is hated, while the masses who give him their favor are despised. He becomes an "unprincipled demagogue" and they a "dangerous rabble," whom the highly respectable "remnant" must hold down.

At last, after waiting nearly eight years, the remnant of the Nez Perce tribe which was transported to Indian territory after the surrender of Chief Joseph is to be brought back to its old home. Of over 500 persons that left the Idaho reservation, less than half remain, the others filling graves in the land of their exile. The story of this exile is a pitiful one, and that they have amply atoned for their crime is a tribe few will deny. Since their departure great changes have taken place in their old home, and their return need cause no alarm, for it will be a broken-hearted, broken-spirited band, filled only with the desire to live at peace with their surroundings, and lay their bones in the soil their ancestors have claimed for generations past.

The trouble between the old line democrats and President Cleveland, explains the Philadelphia Press, arises from a misunderstanding of the civil service plank in their platform last fall. They meant it only as a joke, while he is disposed to look at it seriously.

THE NORTHWEST REBELLION.

Events have succeeded each other so rapidly during the past few days that the rebellion of Louis Riel has developed into a serious affair, almost before its inception has been telegraphed to the world. The government forces have met the rebels, and, after some hard fighting, in which a large number on both sides were killed, their commander has decided to await reinforcements before taking further action.

The cause of the rebellion rises from a long-standing grievance. Louis Riel, an Indian half-breed, of considerable ability and great influence among his people, made a treaty in their behalf with the dominion government in 1869, whereby they were to have possession of certain lands in the Red river country. This treaty the government afterwards repudiated, and the "Red river rebellion," as it was called, was the direct result. Riel was the leader of the half-breeds and Indians, and the present General Wolseley, then a colonel, commanded the British troops by whom Riel's party was defeated and the insurrection crushed. Riel, with a few followers, escaped to Montana, and has resided in the United States ever since. His people have from time to time laid their grievances before the Canadian government, but received no encouragement, and in a final effort to secure redress, sent to their old chieftain for advice and assistance. After much persuasion and promises of support, Riel returned a short time ago, and it seems has not been idle. He has several hundred well armed half breeds under his command, and a number of the local tribes have either joined his forces or are giving him partial support. The authorities are taking active measures to crush the rebellion as rapidly as possible, and in this the completion of the Canadian Pacific railroad will be of great assistance, making the task one of greater ease than that of 1869. The country in which the rebels are operating is sparsely settled and has but recently been placed in communication with the older sections of the British possessions. Carlton, Regina and the other settlements mentioned are of small size, and the garrisons in the Saskatchewan and northwest territories are none of them fit to cope with an armed insurrection like this.

Riel's sympathizers are, however, a class of citizens upon whom the obligations of civilization rest very lightly, and the popular feeling among their neighbors classes them with outlaws. As such they will be dealt with, and it is the intention of the government to send a force strong enough to make a summary settlement of the difficulty.

THE MORMONS ALARMED.

Reports from Salt Lake City show that the recent severe course of justice in Utah has produced little less than a panic among the disciples of Brigham Young. If reports are to be credited the hierarchy is on the verge of the greatest crisis in its history. The saints had hoped to meet with some recognition of their long faithfulness to the democratic party on its coming into power, but instead they are compelled to expect a continuation of the uncompromising enforcement of justice which they have recently experienced. Revolutions, it is said, never go backward. The country had become so fully determined that its laws shall be respected, that the democratic administration could not, if it would, protect the Mormons in their continued nullification of them. They know that their only hope lies in such a corruption of party leaders and officers as shall cripple the law and render its enforcement impossible. The Mormon leaders would be glad to be rid of the republican officers who have executed the laws under the Edmunds bill, but they have reason to fear that polygamy will not go unpunished under their successors. Having denounced Mormonism so uncompromisingly in his inaugural address, Mr. Cleveland cannot put the federal patronage in the hands of those who could be influenced by Mormon bribes. In fact, it is intimated that few removals or new appointments will be made in Utah. Certainly the best way for President Cleveland to testify to the honesty of his professions will be to continue in office the officials who have proved their fidelity and efficiency in administering the laws against polygamy.

In a recent lecture to one of his classes at Yale college Mr Phelps, the new minister to England, took distinct ground against legal divorce in any shape. He said: "I shall hazard one remark on the subject of divorce that will not be generally accepted. So long as divorce is allowed by law it is a matter that can never be adequately regulated. The only way is to abolish it. Cases may require a legal separation. I refer to the divorce that allows the parties to remarry. No divorce is allowed in South Carolina nor in the Catholic church. You can get along without it."

The successful trial of dynamite shells as projectiles at the Washington navy yard a few days ago sustain the predictions made by General Sheridan about the possibilities of improvement in the weapons of war. Dynamite shells are shown to be capable of demolishing in an instant the largest ship that floats. Who knows but they will be made destructive enough to destroy armies in the same manner, and batter down the walls of fortifications like pasteboard castles? The most destructive weapon of war may thus, in the end, be the means of rendering war impossible.

One of the contestants in the recent roller-skating race in New York has died from the effects of physical and mental exhaustion, brought on by the strain, another has developed a sickening malady through poisoning, and nearly all the contestants who remained on the track till the finish are more or less wrecked. Such exhibitions are little less cruel than those which delighted the Romans in the amphitheater, and it is not a good sign that they are so liberally supported.

The appointment of Higgins as patronage clerk of the treasury by Secretary Manning appears to be the latter's way of repeating, by acts which speak several times louder than words, the well established democratic principle that he is "in favor of civil service reform, but against its enforcement."

Democrats suggest resignation as the virtue which would most become and adorn the republican office-holder. On the contrary, the republican office holder thinks that nothing so becomes a man at critical times as firmness and tenacity.

The United States patent office is now the only part of the government that is self-sustaining. Regularly every year it turns into the treasury from $30,000 to $50,000, and in this way has paid in over $8,000,000, counting the interest.

The Roseburg Plaindealer insists that the governor shall appoint J. H. Mitchell to the United States senate. That is a good suggestion. It would so greatly simplify things for the next election.

PORTLAND NATIONAL TAX CONTROVERSY—THE BANK'S SIDE

The board of equalization having preferred to argue its case in the newspapers instead of in the county court,—where we are now—I am compelled to answer its statement.

He then answered me he had no authority from the county judge to adjust a settlement. I solemnly declare that this officer never then asked me nor did he subsequently for permission to inspect the official list of this bank's stockholders as the cashier who was present at the interview can testify.

Fortunately a new county judge of experience and ability has [illegible] taken the place of Judge Stearns [illegible] representing the condition of matters he courteously answered that if a petition was presented to the county court and commissioners it would receive [illegible] consideration by the court, which was done. Furthermore although not compelled by the United States law to do more than permit an inspection by our [illegible] of its official list of stockholders the cashier has handed to the new county judge a list of the bank's shareholders and our attorney to the county assessor a similar list ex gratia, our desire being when treated courteously to afford every information in our power to state officials. Very respectfully your obedient servant,

WILLIAM REID,

President Portland National Bank

TALK OF THE NEWSPAPERS.

St Louis Globe-Democrat: Hendricks to Cleveland: What am I here for? Cleveland to Hendricks: Dunno.

Dayton Journal: If Vice-President Hendricks don't get a postoffice or two he will think that the vice presidency is a [illegible] barren ideality.

New York Sun: If the spirit of reform requires the creation of a permanent and undemocratic class, Mr. Cleveland will do well to let the spirit alone and confine himself to the letter.

St Paul Pioneer Press: It should be clearly understood that no republicans are asking Mr Cleveland to reappoint Postmaster Pearson, of New York. He is the candidate of the mugwumps.

Atlanta Constitution: We are glad to announce that Miss Cleveland, who has charge of the White house, drinks her tea without milk or sugar. This is in the direction of true democracy as we understand the term.

New York Times: If Mr Cleveland and his cabinet shall have the courage and firmness to abolish patronage in the great body of the service to apply the spirit of the reform law where the letter does not reach, they will free congress from the most injurious influence to which it has ever been subjected.

Cleveland Leader: The one point in connection with the Illinois senatorial fight which seems definitely settled is that Colonel William R. Morrison, M. C., better known as Horizontal Bill, cannot be elected. His fate is not likely to make ditches [illegible] in the [illegible] of American industries [illegible]

Indianapolis Journal: Could not Mr. Hendricks and Mr. Voorhees [illegible] to their Indiana friends their share of that [illegible] about $8 apiece, we believe—which their distinguished statesmen promised during the campaign from the present outlook [illegible] is about all that an Indiana democrat [illegible]

Louisville Courier-Journal: The friends of civil service reform in the democratic party are [illegible] tionists. They imagine it is a democratic, but a republican dogma [illegible] If this issue does not constitute a difference between republicans and democrats then there is no difference [illegible] in close sympathy with the common enemy, is to be put upon a level with three-fourths of the party [illegible] marching to the democratic music and time to democratic instincts and traditions than have we small assurance of discipline or [illegible]

THE WALLA WALLA WAR

Reed's Version of the Collision with Parker

WALLA WALLA, March 27, 1885.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In the issue of THE OREGONIAN of Thursday, March 26 a telegram is published from Frank J. Parker, in reference to a difficulty which recently occurred between us. The statement is published is false in every particular and believing that it is your desire to conduct THE OREGONIAN with justice toward all and that you have been unwittingly imposed upon, I ask that you rectify the injustice done me. Without cause or provocation Parker attacked me and mine through his paper, in that low manner which gives the law no hold, and as the only redress in my power lay in thrashing, said Parker I performed that duty thoroughly as is testified by his bruised features and blackened eyes. I was not under the influence of liquor nor thrown into the street, nor was [illegible] the garden hose played on him by a servant girl [illegible] but while I was chastising Parker his wife and mother in law endeavored to assist him by scratching me with their finger nails and playing the hose on my back. Hoping you will do me justice, I remain respectfully,

ED M. REED.

POLITICAL TALK.

New York Sun: The true road to a tariff for revenue only lies through the abolition of all internal revenue taxes. Yet the ordinary revenue reformers don't seem to like it.

New York Times: The new and abounding light that has been thrown upon the career of Mr. Eugene Higgins, of Baltimore, shows him to be a man of disreputable private life, with no public activities [illegible] colonizer of voters and of [illegible] in every form of corruption. In him has been altogether given over to the most dangerous and abominable political devices.

Mr. T. Lamb, 45 Stonefield street, Liverpool, England, says: "I have tried St. Jacobs Oil for neuralgia, the pain left me after one rubbing."

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

HORSE THIEVES CAPTURED.—Thursday night last three horses were stolen from three ranchmen in Wasco county, located about ten miles west of The Dalles and owned respectively by W. F. McClure, Louis Davenport and James Miller. Upon making the discovery next morning McClure directed a friend to send telegrams to officers at Portland and others, and boarded the west bound train. He got off at the Sandy station, in order to interview a person who had been telegraphed, and learned from him the horses had crossed the Sandy ferry early that morning. He tracked the animals for some time, in that vicinity, and yesterday became satisfied they had gone in the direction of Portland. He secured conveyance to town in the wagon of Mr. Stott, who drove him to Lyons' stable, on the corner of Fifth and I streets, East Portland, and there he found the stolen horses had been put up but a few hours previous to his arrival. He came over to this city and notified Sheriff Jordan, who with Jailer Dougherty proceeded to East Portland. They waited around the stable awhile, and about 6 o'clock two of the men came in after their blankets, with which they were going out to make their beds on the ground in some out of the way place. Sheriff Jordan at once arrested them. They offered no resistance to being handcuffed, and were taken to the county jail. They are young men, stout, hardy looking fellows, in workingmen's clothes, and look like railroad laborers or farm hands. One gave his name as William Thompson. He had letters in his pocket addressed to John W. Thompson, and also $21 20 in coin. The other man gave the name of William McNeil, but his true name appears, from papers in his pocket, to be F. C. Donnelly. He had two watches on his person, but no money. They did not have much to say, but made no protestations of innocence, saying to a reporter who called on them: "We are in for it and will have to take our chances." The third man is an older man, dressed in a reddish suit. An officer was left at the stable last evening to await his arrival. It is likely that he will be captured before long.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE CITY PARK.—A large number of the people visited the city park yesterday, many driving out and still more patronizing the Washington-street cars. The big open cars were running and were loaded all day. The number who walked out and pushed baby buggies was not small, though this style of going junketing was far from pleasant in a warm day like yesterday. The spring in the park has been bricked up, and furnishes plenty of good cold water. It will be surrounded with a rail or protected in some way, so that children cannot fall in. It is very nice to have an open spring, where one can dip up water, but where so many people drink as at this one and each dips up more than he needs and after drinking throws the remainder on the ground, it makes a muddy, sloppy place around the spring. The councilmen who have control of this matter will probably devise some remedy for this. The large cement cistern below the spring is being cleaned out, and will make a pretty little fish pond. A stand has been built just outside the park, on the west, where ice-cream, etc., is sold. The work of improving makes slow but visible progress in the park. It would be well to have some more underbrush cleared out, as people have a fondness for lying around under the shady trees in hot weather. Of course the improvement of the park will be slow, and there is scarcely enough cleared ground now. As the warm season advances the crowds every Sunday will increase, and there ought to be room for all. The brush has to be gotten out of the road some time, and labor is cheap now. The employment of two or three men for a month or six weeks would accomplish much that is necessary at this time.

BURGLARS NEATLY TAKEN.—About 2 o'clock yesterday morning, as Special Officer Belcher was walking down his beat, he noticed a block ahead of him, two men emerge from the vestibule in front of T. Sheridan's clothing store, No. 77 North First street, and hurry around the corner of E. When he arrived at the store he noticed a glass in the show window broken, but had no means of knowing whether anything had been stolen. So he lay in wait in the vestibule, and in about fifteen minutes was rewarded by seeing the men return. He arrested them and took them to the city jail. One of the burglars is William Allerdyce, the other a lad named Law. They had taken several shirts, hats, handkerchief and other articles. One of the stolen handkerchiefs was found in Law's pocket. The remainder of the plunder they concealed behind some boxes in an empty lot on Second street. After the arrest Law confessed to where the goods had been secreted. Allerdyce is an old offender. He was concerned in a former burglary with his brother, and was convicted of petit larceny. The brother was arrested at Astoria, but escaped punishment through want of complete evidence. Law is of respectable parentage, and was no doubt led into the crime. He will probably not be prosecuted. There was some method to the burglary, as they must have noticed that Officer Belcher was eating his midnight meal in a restaurant two blocks above when they broke the window.

SHOT IN THE SHOULDER.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock last evening loud and angry conversation, followed by a pistol shot, attracted Officer McMillen's attention to the house in the rear of the St. James hotel, on the corner of Water and L streets, East Portland. Entering at the side gate, he found that a man named Henry Simmons had been shot by William Myers, son of the proprietor of the St. James, who had escaped through the barroom of that house, it communicating with that in the rear. Upon proceeding up L street, however, he met Myers, in company with his father, leaving Deckenbach's saloon, between Water and First streets, arrested him on the spot and escorted him to jail. Hearsay evidence is to the effect that the house in question is kept for immoral purposes by a woman named Mollie Thayer, and that the dispute arose from jealousy concerning this woman, Myers being under the influence of liquor at the time. The shot passed through the victim's right shoulder, glancing from the bone and making only a flesh wound. It missed the sub-clavicle artery but a quarter of an inch however, and there is still danger of a serious result when inflammation sets in. He remained at the house where shot last night. Myers will be arraigned before the recorder this morning.

DID HE INTEND SUICIDE?—Last night, L. A. Ware, formerly clerk at the St. Charles hotel, whose domestic troubles have caused several arrests and several items lately, was locked up again on a charge of drunk and disorderly. On Saturday night he went to his home, corner Water and Montgomery, and beat his wife brutally. Last night he went to the house and began threats of repeating the dose, when his wife blew a whistle which brought Policeman Holland to the scene, and Ware was walked off to the city jail. He was violently drunk. In one pocket was found a package of morphine and in another a ten page letter, evidently intended for his dying words. Nine pages were written on Saturday and a postscript of one page was dated yesterday, the epistle being addressed "To whom it may concern." Like every drunken coward, he lays all the blame of his troubles on his wife and gives a rambling history of their numerous difficulties. He either intended to commit suicide or make somebody believe he intended to. This man Ware needs something for his blood—some tonic in the way of punishment. He isn't crazy except when whisky makes him so, and there is constant danger that he will kill his wife.

A MYSTERY CLEARED.—About three o'clock yesterday afternoon, D. M. Green, who was on board the city dredger lying at the city levee, noticed a hat floating among the piles, and a few moments after the body of a man was observed near the same place. The body was secured and the coroner notified, who took charge of the remains. They proved to be those of J. Nelson Martin, who has been missing since a little before one o'clock on the morning of Thursday, the 12th inst. About that time he left Joe Taylor's saloon in an intoxicated condition to go on board the steamer Gold Dust, of which he was part owner and purser, and which was lying at the city levee. An inquest was held last evening. On the body was found a gold watch and chain, gold ring and $9 60 in money. The evidence tended to establish what has been the general opinion in regard to his disappearance, viz: that in trying to get on board the steamer he fell in the river, and the jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning. Martin was a member of Washington Lodge, No. 46, A. F. & A. M., East Portland, and will be buried under its auspices at 9 o'clock this morning.

HOW TO CLEAN CARPETS.—Now that the season of housecleaning has arrived, butchers report a boom in beef-galls, which are much sought after by thrifty housewives, as they are the best known thing for cleaning carpets or reviving the colors when slightly rusted and faded. A tablespoonful of gall to a quart of water is a fair proportion, and by moistening a linen cloth with this mixture and rubbing the carpet a little piece at a time and then washing off with another cloth rinsed in fresh water and afterward rubbing with a dry cloth, an old carpet can be made almost as good as new. As the beef galls cost about two bits apiece and there is danger of the supply running short, it may not be out of place to state that there are several young men in the city possessed of an unlimited supply of gall and if some way could only be devised of extracting it they would be greatly benefited and all the carpets in the country could be renovated free of expense.

THEIR FIRST DEFEAT.—Yesterday, the newly organized Dotlet Base Ball Club put a dot on the eye of a picked nine at the Oaks, East Portland, the score standing 10 to 6 in favor of the new club in a full game of nine innings. Its nine was composed of the following players: B. Goldren, catcher; J. Bergher, pitcher; A. Hirsch, short stop; Jas. Baker, first base; R. King, second base; W. Espey, third base; W. Stinson, left field; M. Garvin, center field; J. Baker, right field. The picked nine was made up as follows: Nevne, catcher; Egan, pitcher and second base; Hellish, short stop; Coulter, first base; Duniway, second base and pitcher; Buch[illegible], third base; Daly, left field; Parsons, center field; Frandt, right field. The Dotlets have been challenged for a game next Sunday by the Clippers for $20 a side. They will accept, and the game will be played at Twenty-second and I.

DISOBEYED THE COURT.—On Friday Elizabeth Hopkins commenced suit for a divorce from her husband, Hamilton Hopkins, and Judge Stearns issued an order enjoining him from interfering with or molesting her. The order was served Saturday morning, and Hopkins had no sooner received it than he went to the residence of his spouse, at the corner of Fourth and Taylor streets, and beat and otherwise abused her. The matter was reported at the court house to the proper authorities, and resulted in the wife beater being arrested and lodged in jail by Jailer Dougherty for contempt of court. His bonds were fixed at $200, but as he was unable to find sureties, he was constrained to remain a prisoner. Last evening Mrs. Hopkins and her sister-in-law called at the jail laden with bedding for the use and comfort of the prisoner and spent some time communing and condoling with him. It's the same old story.

A HEARTY GOOD-BYE.—Last night Miss Bessie Louise King closed her engagement at the Casino, which was well filled. Her little song, "I'm Just Seventeen," in the third act, came in for hearty applause and had to be repeated. Then the audience seemed to appreciate all at once that this was the last time Miss King's voice would be heard here in public, at least for some time, and they broke out in a very enthusiastic recall. The orchestra then struck up "Way down upon the Swanee River," and the people seemed to go half wild before the first strain was played. Little Bessie sang the sweet old plantation melody with a great deal of soul, and the music went straight to the hearts of her hearers. Then they "raised the roof" and Bessie broke down. Miss Winston in her graceful way led Miss King to the footlights, and the Queen of Portugal wished the audience "Good bye."

ANOTHER ROAD INTO THE PARK.—The projected road into the city park from the south side is now occupying the attention of the city surveyor. The formation of the ground at this point makes the construction of a road, with practicable grade rather difficult, and will necessitate the construction of two or more somewhat expensive bridges. If the park extended a little farther south a road could be built following a curve of the creek for a distance and thus the summit of the park gained by a good grade without the necessity of bridges. Plans of the road and grounds will soon be prepared and it will then be seen whether it is cheaper to build the bridges or buy a small piece of ground as an addition to the park.

UNKNOWN SUICIDE.—On Friday the engineer of a train on the Baker City branch of the O. R. & N. railroad discovered the dead body of a man near the track a short distance from Umatilla Junction. The train was stopped, and an examination made, which showed that the man had committed suicide by blowing off the top of his head. A double-barreled gun, with the barrels split and locks blown off, lay close by the remains. The suicide had evidently placed the muzzle of the gun, heavily loaded, at his mouth, and fired off both barrels at once. The remains could not be identified.

STILL NO REMEDY.—A subscriber at Oretown, Tillamook county, writes that the delay in the mails between Portland and Grand Ronde, Polk county, still continues week after week and that letters are usually ten days en route. Some time ago this was attributed to bad roads, but with the fine weather for the past month, horses can certainly get through. If better service can not be secured upon application to representatives of the postoffice department here, the residents of Tillamook had better send a petition direct to Postmaster-General Vilas.

COMPARISON OF WEATHER.—"Spring can not make much headway as long as the ice is two feet thick in the river, and the lake is covered with ice as far as the eye can see. She is ice-bound, as it were." That is what the Chicago Inter Ocean of the 3d, one week ago to-day, says. Here last evening people were sitting out on their porches to enjoy the cool breeze, which was refreshing after a rather uncomfortably warm day. Those Chicago folks ought to just see Oregon now, and they would all emigrate here at once.

THE CONCORDIA.—The Concordia club Saturday night gave at Masonic hall their closing party for the season of 1884-85. It was a remarkably pleasant affair throughout. Next season the club will be able to entertain their friends at their own rooms to be specially fitted for that purpose in Mulkey's block, corner Second and Morrison streets. In addition to the usual clubrooms there will be a large hall for dancing, a dining hall and cloak rooms, and everything will be fitted up with elegance.

FIRST EXCURSION.—Yesterday's excursion to Washougal passed off very pleasantly. Quite a large number embraced the opportunity for a day's recreation, and a view of the Columbia. The programme was fully carried out, reflecting credit on the management of the McCully, and all returned feeling their time and money was well spent. Not an accident of any kind took place, and the day was all that could be desired.

KILLED IN A RUNAWAY.—On Thursday last C. H. Hallwood, who lived near Tacoma, while driving along the highway stepped out upon the pole of his wagon to adjust some part of the harness, which had become tangled, when his horses ran away and he was thrown down between them. He was trampled upon and run over by the wagon, sustaining internal injuries from which he died twenty-two hours after.

THE LOAN ASSOCIATION.—The second year of the first series of shares of the Franklin Loan and Building Association ends next Wednesday. The annual meeting of the association will be held the first Wednesday in May. The directors are preparing a number of important amendments to the by-laws of the association, which will be presented for adoption at this meeting.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will announce decisions this morning in the case of Conroy v. The Oregon Construction Company, Heywood v. Harris, and Durham v. The Fire and Marine Sun Insurance Company.

EX-MAYOR NAVIN'S SENTENCE.

ADRIAN (Mich.), [illegible] March 28.

Thomas J. Navin, ex-mayor of this city, was arraigned before Judge Andrew Howell at an adjourned sitting of the circuit court to-day. The proceedings were quietly conducted, very few people being present except lawyers and officers of the court. Sheriff Winters brought the prisoner in, the complaint was read, the charge being the forging of the Monaghan mortgage of 1880 for $4000, and Navin pleaded guilty. The court said:

"Mr. Navin, you have pleaded guilty to the offense as charged in the information. What have you to say why sentence of the law should not be passed upon you for this offense?"

"I have nothing to say, your honor," he replied.

"In appearing for sentence Mr. Navin," continued the court, "you do not stand as one before the court who should be considered guilty only of this offense charged, and yet no other offense is charged against you in writing, nor can you be punished for any other. Still, your punishment in the eye of the law, and in view of that which I consider my duty under the law, will be such as to act not only as a punishment to yourself, but in some measure to deter others from a like course of conduct, and to prevent it from being considered as something which young men might feel it a sort of honor, in one sense, to attempt to achieve. The necessity of punishment of such a kind no one understands better than yourself. The sentence of the court is that you be confined at hard labor at the state prison at Jackson for a period of ten years from and including this date."

Navin stood with downcast eyes, but there was no sign of weakness on his countenance save one nervous movement when the court paused for a moment before pronouncing the term of sentence. The sentence meets with universal approbation.

BRIEF MENTION.

Miss Winston will sing to-night, "We met by Chance, the Usual Way."

The Ariosto Club give their closing party Tuesday evening, March 31, a plain party.

In order not to conflict with the meeting of the Humane Society, the Easter sociable of Grace chapel, announced for April 1, is postponed until Friday evening, April 3.

N. Bu[illegible]ch, a Russian fruit dealer, was arrested last night by Policeman Holmberg for shoving a pistol into the face of John Wood and threatening to shoot him. He was locked up for the night.

H. F. Gullixson & Co. will positively close out business on or before May 1st. Carpets, oil cloths, rugs, mats, at actual cost.

FOUNTAIN HEAD OF INFORMATION

One Place where Everything Concerning Every Nation's Affairs is Learned or Nothing

In times when great questions are at stake among the nations of the earth, the reporters' room of THE OREGONIAN office becomes a rendezvous for anxious inquirers, who call in a friendly way to spend the evening and discuss the topics in which they are interested. The probability of war between Russia and England, the Soudan unpleasantness and the French invasion of Tonquin, are all subjects of great interest at present to many people, and the levees in the reporters' room of late have been largely attended. The reporters are chock full of information on all these subjects, and are always happy to drop their work and pour out their stores of knowledge, which when any pressure is brought to bear upon them flow as copiously as whey from a cheese press. Last evening there was a large crowd present at the levee. Every one of the elegant stuffed chairs was filled, the ottomans and fauteuils were crowded, and even the sacred tables of the reporters were utilized as seats. The political and financial condition of nearly the whole world was discussed and explained. The various complications which were likely to arise among the crowned heads of Europe, Asia and Africa were all considered. The Ameer of Afghanistan, the Begum of Bengal, the Caliph of Cashmere, the Hospodar of Herzegovina, the Khan of Khiva, the Muldoon of Munster, the Rajah of Rajnuggur, the Belooche of Beloochistan, and the Sheik of Sandsandling were all passed under review and their interests and affinities explained. Of course the Sultan of Turkey, the Khedive of Egypt and the Shah of Persia were made short work of, as their motives and actions are easily understood. The discussion of these matters and things was very animated and occupied some time. The visitors, having at length been pumped so full of information that they could hold no more, took their departure.

Then the telegraph man emerged from his boudoir with a wet towel around his head and remarked that he would like to edit the dispatches in a zeriba at Hasheen while it was being stormed by the Hadendowa Arabs, just because it would be so quiet there, comparatively speaking. He further remarked that the fact that he was growing hard of hearing was a gleam of sunshine across his dreary path and he expected to experience the height of earthly felicity when he became as deaf as a post. And then he went back into his room and slammed the door hard, and a great silence brooded over the reporters and their room for nearly ten minutes, broken at last by a telephone ring from a subscriber near Good Samaritan hospital who wanted to know what time and from what dock the steamer left for the Cowlitz.

THE EAST SIDE

A MINISTER FAINTS DURING SERVICE

While Rev. John Sellwood, rector of St. David's church, was reading the second lesson at yesterday morning's service, his voice was seen to falter and grow weak, and Mr. J. R. Sellwood, his brother, and Dr. S. E. Josephi hastened to his side. They had no sooner done so than he fell back unconscious in their arms, and was at once conveyed to the vestry. Restoratives were applied as soon as possible, and upon regaining consciousness he was assisted to the rectory. The remainder of the service (excepting the communion service and the sermon) was conducted by Dr. Josephi, who also announced that the rector would meet the confirmation class in the afternoon and also conduct the service in the evening, and thereby relieved the congregation from much anxiety concerning their pastor.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES.

At St. David's Episcopal church yesterday, the following announcements were made for the week: Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, service at 4 P. M. Tuesday and Thursday service at 7 1/2 P. M. Full morning service Friday (being Good Friday). Communicants are particularly requested to be present at the Thursday evening service. Flora, offerings for Easter may be left at the rectory or taken to the church Saturday evening.

ACQUITTED.

J. J. Evans, accused of stealing milk cans, the property of Wm. McBride, the complainant, was examined before Justice Coleman, Saturday. The evidence went to show that Evans came into possession of McBride's cans more through carelessness than from dishonest motives. He was therefore discharged from custody, but ordered to return the cans in his possession belonging to McBride.

BRITISH COLUMBIA NOTES

PORT MOODY, B. C., March 24.

Real estate is constantly increasing in value and there is a quiet, healthful boom going on.

Commencing April 1 the C. P. R. Co. will run three boats a week between Port Moody and Victoria.

The man-of-war Satellite anchored in the harbor nearly all last week and finally proceeded to Esquimalt.

Port Moody is decidedly looking up. New buildings are going up, many lots are changing hands, new enterprises being inaugurated, and everything betokens the coming terminus boom.

The [illegible] Lumber company has just completed a large wharf at its mill, and a 18,000 gallon tank to supply steamers with water. It has also ordered [illegible] planing mill, and is making many substantial improvements.

The ship [illegible] with iron for the Canadian Pacific company has finished discharging, its [illegible] will load with coal at Nanaimo for China. The captain refuses to allow the [illegible] to the front where it is much needed [illegible] completion of the road until the freight [illegible]. This is caused by advices from the [illegible] that the company has no funds to [illegible] and the many rumors of the [illegible] circumstances of the company. It is the general opinion here that the road will have to be taken over completed and operated by the government, as it has refused to further assist the company. In the event of the road being taken by the government Port Moody will [illegible] much the terminus as it was so officially declared by the government after the most careful investigation.

ITEMS FROM THE DALLES.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Marsh have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the loss of their infant child who died Sunday afternoon.

The freighting season has again fairly begun, [illegible] of freight are handled at all of the warehouses and forwarded to interior points.

The yard about the court house is being improved. A fountain will be placed on the west side of the building and the whole yard laid out for a lawn.

There are twelve prisoners now in the county jail awaiting trial, besides several who are out on bail awaiting [illegible] accused of murder. The criminal calendar is also larger than usual.

The wool clip for this county and Grant county will probably exceed that of last year by about 25 per cent., and it is expected it will be of a better quality. The losses by the heavy snow will hardly equal the increase.

The subscribers to THE OREGONIAN here highly appreciate the efforts of its management to get the papers here early in the day. By the present arrangement they are in distribution shortly after 3 o'clock [illegible].

Mr. S. [illegible] while [illegible] improvements about his place last [illegible]. In using a pick he caught it on a clothes line and struck himself on the shoulder, fracturing his shoulder blade. He is still confined to his house.

Our present stock many thousands of dollars.

Our store is the largest in this city, but too small to hold all our goods now here and en route.

The surplus must be disposed of, and we wish to again call attention to this matter, and to emphasize the fact that the stock displayed is the best and cheapest ever offered in this market.

RESTAURANT, HOTEL AND HOUSEKEEPERS

Are informed that we have just received 98 crates of White Granite and Decorated Crockery, direct from Liverpool, and our stock being already too large, we are offering articles in this line at a very slight advance on invoice rates.

OUR LAMP STOCK

Cannot be equaled on this coast for completeness in variety and cheapness. Our rich Gold, Ebony and French Bronze Library Lamps and Chandeliers evidently meet all requirements, judging from the continued demand and large sales both in the city and country.

We are not silversmiths, but any one would naturally think so, looking at the number of Elegant Casters, Water and Cream Pitchers, Knives, Forks and Spoons, etc., that glisten in our show-cases and adorn our shelves. We keep only the BEST goods of the latest patterns.

IMPORTS—Per str State of California from San Francisco include 792 hf 531 bbls 24 bxs 350 sks sugar 10 kgs 1 cs 1 bbl syrup 7 bbls 15 cs 87 sks coffee 314 sks 235 mats rice 52 pkgs tea, 8 bls 800 sks salt 116 sks beans 5 cs 6 kgs pickles 571 cs canned goods, 76 cs canned meats 24 tins matches, 2 cs sauce, 30 cs candles 2 cs starch 1 cs milk 3 cs blue [illegible] cs chocolate 76 cs soda and salt, 69 bxs soap 56 pkgs spice 70 cs split peas 75 cs pearl barley [illegible] cs 6 bbls mustard 73 cs 1 bbl baking powder 38 cs cream tartar 18 cs extract 2 sks nuts 36 pkgs candy 2 cs 50 pkgs 21 bbls vinegar 25 sks top onions, 63 sks seed, 10 cs fish, 1 cs figs 2 cs raisins 23 cs dried fruit, 11 cs sardines 13 cs crackers, 15 cs honey 21 cs cheese 60 cs butter 26 sks sweets, 201 pkgs vegetables 500 bxs oranges 36 cs lemons, 3 cs pine apples 9 cs limes, 30 pkgs bananas 1 bx 6 sks new potatoes, 20 sks malt 100 bbls plaster, 456 bls wheat sacks, 14 bls twine 13 bls bagging 15 bxs tin 20 cls rope, 204 kgs 4 bxs nails, 10 pkgs tobacco 42 cs cigars.

FREIGHTS—The rate of the Jane Sprott is rather better than reported yesterday it now being given as equal to 41s 3d direct, or 43s 9d for orders This is believed to be the correct figure If so it is an extreme that all shippers would not pay Another iron vessel is being worked to day said to be at a lower rate Owners evince no desire to hurry business and agents are exerting themselves to better rates. In the prevailing uncertainty neither side exhibit anxiety each thinking they can afford to await a definite turn

WHEAT—Foreign advices are of the usual Saturday character cargoes being firmly held, and late advices checking the demand The early part of next week promises to make the political situation clearer when the markets must follow politics to a great extent. The San Francisco market is favorably affected by continued dry weather In a local way there is little doing but there is a very fair request for valley in a quiet way Shippers name $1 20@1 22½ as to needs, but round lots of choice would do better at the moment Walla Walla neglected on spot offerings being light.

FLOUR—The market wears a firm front in sympathy with wheat

OATS—Trade very quiet but values are steady at 30@32½c for best feed and offerings are not excessive

POTATOES—In light trading, but this promises no improvement Paying prices are 15@17½c for common to 30c for Burbank.

ONIONS—Choice in some request for shipment but shipping values are very uncertain Jobbing at 3@4c

TROPICAL FRUITS—Oranges advanced to $2 for common. Other sorts unchanged.

VEGETABLES—Oregon rhubarb in larger receipt. Asparagus is lower, Quote selling values, Cabbage 2c rhubarb 5c celery $1 cauliflower $1 10, asparagus 3@4c.

BUTTER—California roll sold at 22@22½c Local grades unchanged

CHICKENS—Quote $4@4 50 for mixed lots.

EGGS—Receipts liberal, but the request is good Selling at 15c to-day Should receipts be heavy to-night a decline may be expected on Monday

WOOL—The small lots arriving are from mutton sheep The New York Shipping List of 21st inst says Inactivity continues to be a prominent feature of the market which still presents a dull and tame appearance The amount of business reported during the week is about the same as the average for the past month or six weeks, and in regard to values it is generally conceded that buyers have the advantage. Of course this does not apply to choice grades of fleeces and fine delaines which have been in limited supply and steadily held for a long period but all other descriptions show little if any strength and there are no indications of a material revival in trade in the near future. The continued slow distribution of manufactured goods is the chief obstacle in the way of an improvement in raw material and as consumers will undoubtedly limit their purchases to actual wants until the outlet for their product widens and more encouraging features are developed, there is nothing to warrant a hopeful view on the part of holders In regard to the London auction sales of Australian now progressing cable advices report a fair attendance of buyers but bidding was not spirited. Prices of choice grades are well supported while faulty and inferior have declined about ½d. The sales here include 10,000 pounds eastern Oregon at 15½c.

Hon P P Prim and Hon H K Hanna of Jacksonville are in the city on business before the supreme court

Ex Senator Nesmith is doing well since his return to his home in Polk county and strong hopes are entertained of his complete recovery

Prof A T Yeaton has returned home from an extended trip in the eastern states and is more than ever pleased with his Oregon home

Superintendent Collins of the Oregon state penitentiary is organizing his forces with the view of commencing work in the brick yard on Monday next

His Excellency Governor Moody has made the following executive appointments Henry Schule of Dallas, Texas commissioner for Oregon Henry W Cooke, Portland J B Scott Grant and E H Balding Lost Valley notaries public

The new law providing for the completion of the public buildings having no emergency clause does not go in effect until about the 20th of May Convict labor will be utilized without delay in manufacturing brick to be used in the work.

The Albany fire department are already negotiating for the charter of a steamer to transport themselves, friends and apparatus to Astoria during the coming state tournament They contemplate taking the Albany band and are desirous of having the Salem firemen join them at this place

Tiger engine company, No 2 of this city, has ordered recently from the Silsby manufacturing company of Seneca Falls, N Y an elegant hose cart, costing them some $600. It is expected to arrive here shortly and the boys will at once organize a team and go into active training for participation in the coming state firemen's tournament at Astoria.

Death has at last claimed as his own the life of Frank E Parmenter who passed away yesterday after a brief illness. The deceased was brought up in this city since early boyhood and was known and respected by a large circle of friends and acquaintances He has been engaged in active business life in this city for several years past, and won the confidence and esteem of commercial circles by his upright and manly course in matters pertaining to his business By his death Salem loses an honored citizen and his family a cherished son, a loving husband and an indulgent parent He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss. The funeral ceremonies will probably take place Sunday

Matters are progressing encouragingly at the new site of the United States Indian training school just north of the city under the personal supervision of Colonel McConville The railroad company have built a switch leading from the main track to the temporary quarters which are not in view from the O & C R R track The new buildings however plans for which have been already selected and forwarded to headquarters at Washington D C for approval will be erected on a piece of rising ground but a short distance from the track, and will be of a class of architecture that will be at once pleasing and attractive Crops are being put in and proposals for construction of buildings will soon be advertised for The coming season promises to be a busy one in that immediate locality

Reaction Against Tall Houses

NEW YORK, March 28—The reaction against tall houses in New York is becoming formidable The city inspector of buildings says Besides the sanitary objections in the neighborhoods where they stand and the peril to which the inmates are exposed the depreciation in the value of contiguous real estate is something alarming For instance a twelve-story building 100x200 feet in area is to be erected on Fifth avenue on the crown of Murray Hill On the opposite corner is the property of Astor, from which the sun will be practically excluded Estimating the value of the property at $250,000 Stewart's property will suffer to the extent of at least $100,000 and other properties will suffer in the aggregate to the extent of $,800,000 at least so this one house will entail a dead loss of nearly half a million dollars.

A Bad Record for a Vermonter During the War of the Rebellion.

NEW YORK, March 24—The New York Tribune reproduces the following from the New York Times of Monday Sept. 6, 1880, printed as a special to the Times from Burlington, Vt.

The democrats made a foolish move in crowding their nomination for governor on Mr E. J Phelps. An able and successful lawyer, an influential member of the last constitutional convention (which is constituted without regard to politics), the graceful president of the great Bennington centennial celebration, interested and prominent in securing game laws and organizing state and national bar associations, and in various matters of art and general culture he had been of late years brought before the people in other than political aspects, and many had forgotten that he had been during the war one of the most pronounced and bitter pro-slavery and anti-war democrats in the country Had he maintained his resolution to accept no political nomination, the memory of his attitude from 1860 to 1865 might have quite passed away but the democratic nomination and his speech of acceptance, in which with surprising want of tact he aired afresh his old hatred of the African and attacked the southern republicans, white and black, with a virulence which few southern democrats could equal, and which showed his absolute sympathy with the Blackburns, Butlers, Davises and Hamptons of the South have brought it into strong prominence. Still stronger light has been thrown upon it by the publication of a careful stenographic report of a speech made by Mr Phelps in September, 1864, before a club of copperheads in Burlington In this he called Mr Lincoln "a wooden head" and a "twentieth rate back-country lawyer" declared that the north was fighting simply to "turn loose all the nigger's and "whitewash the nigger in the blood of millions" said that the national debt had reached a point where it could not be carried though no one was ready to say how it could be repudiated, and otherwise talked in a way that would have delighted Jeff Davis but which jars pretty rudely on loyal sympathies among the green hills The Vermonters are willing to shake hands with any rebel who is truly reconstructed and is willing to render such allegiance to law, order and equal rights in kind if not in degree as they render themselves, but the people of a freedom-loving state which gave to the war a soldier for every ten of its inhabitants, male and female, old and young, and which lost in killed and wounded more men in proportion to its quota than any other state but Kansas and about as many as that state, would not be very likely to regard with favor the few Vermonters who held back while the rest pressed forward, and who called the soldiers Hessians and Lincoln's hirelings, and who would have gladly let the union slide if slavery could have been preserved Whatever else the Green Mountain boys forget, they do not propose to forget the war, and as between a villifier of Abraham Lincoln, a denouncer of the war, and a friend of rebels in arms, and a man like the republican nominee, who in addition to being an able lawyer and a citizen of the highest integrity, was one of the first volunteers, few if any voters that ever voted a republican ticket have found any room for hesitation

[illegible] The Story of his Alliance [illegible] the McDonald Party

[illegible] March 21—[Correspondence New York Tribune]—There is bad blood in the ranks of the surviving Hoosier wing of the late southern confederacy, and the democratic year of jubilee in this state is likely to be crowded full of bitter feuds, backbiting, and hatred instead of joy and happiness A delegation of office-seekers returned a few days ago from a pilgrimage to Washington, presenting anything but the appearance of victors returning with spoils Such bad blood in his eye [illegible] self constituted 'bosses' will not be obeyed by the democracy of Indiana, nor will we submit to having one of our greatest, truest, and best leaders butchered to make a holiday for Vice President Hendricks, Gov Gray, or any body else Indianians are not in the habit of licking the hand that strikes them'

To these differences antedate the election

"The causes do, but not the bitter feeling which now exists"

"What were the causes, and who is responsible

The causes were the outgrowth of jealousy, and the responsibility for our troubles must be laid upon the shoulders of Mr Hendricks His burning ambition, and the high estimate that he placed upon his own greatness and popularity have often swamped both himself and his party The beginning of the trickery, if I may call it by so harsh a name, dates back a month or more before the Chicago convention However, the work that was done behind the curtain after the nominations were made and before the letters of acceptance were delivered did the mischief for us You will remember that Mr Hendricks visited Mr Cleveland before either had accepted the nomination Well, it has since leaked out that Mr Hendricks, believing himself to be in possession of all the brain power and glory of the convention's work, demanded of Mr Cleveland, as the condition upon which he would make the race at the tail end of the ticket, the full and absolute control of certain patronage in Indiana and in two or three other states, with the additional right to say whether or not an Indiana man should be invited to a place in the cabinet, and to name the man if one was to be selected from this state and, still further, that no Indiana man should be placed in any position of prominence and influence without the full consent of the vice president. Believing that Mr Hendricks would be a lever of strength in the struggle, Mr Cleveland foolishly made all the pledges that were demanded of him, and more too Not a soul in Indiana save Mr Hendricks and a few bosom friends knew of this bargain and sale, and it is well enough that the secret was kept close, otherwise the electoral vote of Indiana would have been counted for Blaine Soon after the election, however, when Mr McDonald's friends begun to press him for a cabinet position, the conspiracy began to unwind its treacherous coil, and, later on, it became evident that Mr McDonald had been betrayed by Mr Hendricks at every step from before the Chicago convention down to the hour in which Cleveland and Hendricks were inaugurated"
